University College of the North and Conference Board of Canada Partner to bring Future Skills Centre - Centre des Compétences Futures (FSC-CCF) Regional Soundings Tour to the North

(The Pas, MB) – Manitobans who are engaged or interested in the province’s skills and training community will have an opportunity to share their expertise on the diverse future skills needs of their region.

The Future Skills Centre aims to identify emerging in-demand skills across the country, with the goal of helping Canadians prepare for a changing workforce. This cross-Canada tour aims to engage diverse communities to learn about their unique region’s priorities. The information will help inform the Future Skills Centre’s research and investment strategies.

On November 4, 2019, participants will receive a brief introduction to the Future Skills Centre’s mandate and objectives. Following that, participants are invited to voice their thoughts and ideas in small group conversations about how the Future Skills Centre can best support the province today for workforce opportunities of the future.
